

GET THE GENUINE

John W. Merritt, for many years editor of the State Register, died at Salem on Saturday, aged 73. Mr. Merritt was a man of rare accomplishments, and had been in the editorial harness a long time. One of his sons, Gen. Wesley Merritt, now of the regular army, was a distinguished cavalry officer during the war. Another son, Edward L. Merritt, is well-known in the political circles of the state, as a leading Democrat. Another son, Thomas E. Merritt, has long represented his district in the lower house of the state legislature, and at the late election was promoted to the senate. Another son, Joseph D. Merritt, holds an important position in the new state prison at Chester. A daughter of Mr. Merritt is the wife of Jacob O. Chance, who has held various offices of importance in Marion county, and who was elected clerk of the supreme court, for the southern grand division, at the recent election. The Merritt family has for many years been quite prominent in southern Illinois.

CORONERS REASSEMBLES two weeks from today. The Democratic majority will not be in such high spirits as when they adjourned in the summer.

THE Lieutenant Governor of Manitoba was shaved by a Winnipeg barber, who charged him 15 cents. His Honor said that was too much, and induced him to accept 12. Then he went home and desired his private secretary to visit the various tonsorial palaces and see what was the lowest rate at which the gubernatorial barbering would be undertaken, the successful competitor having the privilege of painting on his signboard, "Hair-Dresser to His Honor the Lieutenant Governor." The private secretary declined this confidential mission, was promptly dismissed, and now goes about telling the cause of his dismissal.

THE National Commission appointed to investigate the cause of the yellow fever in the Southwest has become convinced, after due examination, that this pestilence is not indigenous in the atmosphere in any part of the United States; that in New Orleans it was caused by importation; that there seems to be no doubt that the plague was carried from that city to other places, and that under favorable circumstances it might prevail in any part of the Union. Under this view of the subject, the commission is of the opinion that the only reasonable protection to keep yellow fever from the country is a system of strict national quarantine.

EX-PRESIDENT GRANT is just now the recipient of a compliment from certain quarters, which is entirely undesired, but is nevertheless very flattering. It consists in the assertion that, inasmuch as the North is sure to go Republican in 1880, there is no necessity for Grant's nomination. This is a concession of the strength of Grant which contains a very strong tribute of praise. It is as much as to say that Grant is sure to carry more electoral votes than any other person who can be nominated. We believe the Republican party is very sure to win in 1880, except under a very weak candidate; but we prefer to take our chances, and hence we believe in the Grant movement.—Globe Democrat.

A WOMAN'S glove is to her what his vest pocket is to a man. But it is more essential and in ninety-nine instances out of one hundred it is much better regulated. A man will carry two dollars' worth of small change, four matches, half a dozen tooth picks, a short pencil, and a pack of business cards in his vest pocket and yet never be bothered by a tickle or a scratch or a tooth pick or a pencil or a card, when he wants it. Not so with a woman. She has the least bit of glove, and in that glove she carries the tiniest little hand and a wad of bills and memoranda for her intended purchases and dress goods samples and one delicate and matinee cheeks and maybe a diminutive powder bag. We have no idea how she does it—how she manages to squeeze those thousand and one things into that wee space. But she does it every time, and the glove never looks the least bit discomposed or pinched or rubbed. And when the woman wants any article concealed about her glove, she doesn't seem to have the least trouble in the world getting at it. All that is required is a simple turn of the wrist, the momentary disengagement of two fairy fingers and the desired article is brought to light. It's a wonder that no savant can explain.

THE Advertiser which will cure every variety of Ague, Fever and Ague, and Chills and Fever, and leave no bad trace or disposition, has been discovered. The preparation or principle is known by the name of OLEUM OF THE FEVER-FIGHTER. It is absolutely free from minerals or other poisonous material, it accomplishes its purpose without being in the least harmful to the system. Entering the blood, it dissolves and eliminates all the poisonous elements of the blood, and then permeates the system.

REFORM.
EDITORS REPUBLICAN.—In the way of reform, "Kaintuck," of Friends Creek, is advocating the disbanding of the Macon county legislature and adopting the old plan of transacting the county business by three commissioners. A change is not always reform, and any change in the manner of transacting public affairs, for a while at least, is attended with more or less confusion.

The old plan has some advantages over township organization, and it has also its disadvantages. It does not necessarily lessen the number of law-suits, as claimed by "Kaintuck," nor always lessen the county expenses. Take Macon county, for instance, and listen to the groanings of her citizens over the burden of county debts which she is vainly trying to repudiate; and for law suits for which she is directly responsible, she is probably the banner county in the state. It is true that the old style is less cumbersome than the new, yet it is doubtless less safe. If two good men are elected as commissioners they may manage to hold the contrary one level, but if two contrary ones should happen to be elected it might not work quite so well, and if the county business can be transacted better by three men than by sixteen, cannot one do it better than three and thereby save the expense of two commissioners? Every thing will then be unanimous, and "harmony" and unanimity will reign. Now that this matter is before the public let us have these systems ventilated, and if the plan of three commissioners (or one) is better than sixteen, why not adopt it? Let those who are acquainted with both plans give us the benefit of their views and their reasons for favoring either, that all may have an intelligent idea of both and act accordingly. The day is past when but league phrases for reason, so no more of this "lomb-stone" business. The four or five thousand voters in Macon county have very little for the ambition or aspirations of the sixteen who happen to occupy seats on the wooden benches in the Macon county legislature, but they are interested in anything that will improve their condition, especially financially. The statement of itself, that I was brought up under the system in old Kaintuck, and I liked it, is hardly a conclusive reason for making the change.

To the average Macon county man the manner of doing things on a general principle at the "Confederate X Roads" is not such as to excite his envy. What the public want is facts and sound reasoning, and if they are convinced that the old plan of three commissioners is preferable to township organization they will not be slow to adopt it.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IN AMERICA.

It is stated, with apparent authenticity, that on the 1st of January next a most important change in the Catholic Church government in America will take place. Up to this time the United States has been a missionary station, as it were. After the 1st of January, according to the Pope's brief, just received by Archbishop Wood, of Philadelphia, the Catholic Church in this country will be substantially on a footing with the hierarchy in European countries, where the Catholic religion has flourished for hundreds of years. The Archbishop of Philadelphia, as well as all the other Bishops and Vicars Apostolic in this country, has received from the Pope the brief referred to, in which the particulars of the new system are set forth. Archbishop Wood says, through his Secretary, Father Brennan, that as soon as possible a circular embodying the brief will be mailed to every priest in the archdiocese. The most important particular appears to be the establishment of a system of church judicature. The brief ordains that under the new system pastors of parishes shall be known as rectors, with most of the canonical rights now belonging to parish in Ireland and head priests in England and Scotland. All disputes between priest and Bishop shall be settled by the Court of Causes.

COMPOSITION OF THE XLVI—CONGRESS.

Careful footings of the composition of the XLVI Congress, by the Cincinnati Gazette, make out Democrats 144; Republicans 133; nationals 11. This gives the Democrats 6 majority over the Republicans without the aid of the nationals. Two of the nationals from the South are certainly strong Republicans, and will vote on all political questions with the Republicans. It is also stated that Dr. Delamater will vote with the Republicans on political questions. This cuts the Democratic majority down to three, and leaves 8 nationals yet to account for.

The New York Tribune asserts that the Democrats cannot command a majority in the House on political questions at all. Six nationals from Iowa, Pennsylvania and Maine are strong Republicans in every political sentiment and will act with the Republicans on political questions.

It is hence doubtful whether the Democrats can possibly organize the XLVI Congress; but even if they do succeed in that their power is completely checked and broken.

POLITICAL AND OTHER NOTES.

NAPLES, Nov. 16.—As King Humbert was entering the city in state today, a poorly clad man attempted to assassinate him with a poniard. Signor Caroli, Chief of the Ministry, who was in the carriage with the king, laid hands on the man, who wounded him in the thigh. The King drew his sword and struck the assassin, who was immediately secured. The King received a slight scratch. Popular indignation is intense and demonstrations of loyalty are unbounded. The assassin is 29 years old and by occupation a cook. He says he belongs to no society, but being poor nourished a hatred towards Rome. The assassin was bearing a banner among the trade associations which paraded to meet the King. He had fastened a dagger to the flag staff.

ROME, Nov. 17.—Fifty thousand people with flags and bands of music are assembled on the Corso in Rome, to-night, to manifest their joy at the escape of the King, and another demonstration has been made before the house of the Syndic. Crowds everywhere demand prompt justice. The Austrian embassy is illuminated, and a crowd cheered the Ambassador.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 16.—A lively contest is going on over the United States Senatorship in North Carolina, between Morrison, the present incumbent, and Governor Vance (both Democrats). The Republicans will not make any nomination, but will act with the Independent Democrats in endeavoring to defeat the caucus nominee. Vance claims to have four fifths of the Democrats in the Legislature in his favor.

The strike of the oyster-shuckers in Baltimore has ended in the men resuming work at the employers' rate of 15 cents for eight quarts.

A dispatch from Tallahassee, Fla., says that a special session of the Supreme Court convened there today, when petitions were presented for a mandamus against the county canvassing boards. Senator Conover, who was beaten for Congress in the First District, according to the Democratic way of making returns, has decided to contest the election.

CHAMPAIGN, ILL., November 16.—A strange case of the loss of a newspaper editor is now greatly distressing his relatives here. George N. Richards, editor of the Warrensburg (Mo.) Standard, brought his family here two weeks ago to visit her mother, and he started to return, after which he was heard of in St. Louis, but no trace can be found of him since. Mrs. Richards is appealing to the police of St. Louis to aid in the search for her husband. He is over 40 years old, and is widely known.

PEORIA, ILL., Nov. 17.—James King, an Irishman, about thirty years of age, committed suicide last evening by hanging himself in the hay-loft of a barn at his sister's residence, where he lived. He drove a staple in the beam and attached to it a rope, which he took from around a bale of hay, and thus hung himself. He was formerly a section man on the Peoria, Pekin & Jacksonville Railroad, and had saved $800, which he had deposited in the Pulisier Bank, that broke two years ago. Soon afterwards he became insane, and was sent to the hospital at Jacksonville. About a month ago he was believed to be cured, and was sent home again, but his suicide shows that his mind was still deranged. The bank failure is supposed to have been the cause of his insanity, and though it occurred two years ago, the assets have provided only one dividend of 10 per cent thus far, the liabilities were nearly $1,000,000.

J. H. Pickrell, of Harrisburg, was in the city today, and called around at the Republican office.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Nov. 17.—A lamp overturned in a St. Louis sleeper on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad west bound express, at 2 o'clock this morning, about seven miles east of this place, setting fire to the curtains. There were thirty-five passengers in the car, several of them children. All escaped in their night clothes, losing all their small baggage, money and jewelry. No one was hurt, but the car was destroyed. A number of the passengers were New Orleans refugees returning home.

MATTOON, ILL., Nov. 16.—This morning Chas. Alabauer, an old dry goods merchant on West Broadway, failed to open his doors. It transpires that they were closed at the instance of Kalin Bros., of this city, on a loan of several years' standing.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 17.—It seems settled, beyond doubt, that Martin, Republican, is elected to Congress from the First District by forty to fifty majority.

An Elegant Assortment of fine all-wool Scotch Cassimere Suits, for young men's wear, at B. STRAIN'S, The Best Clothier.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—At a late hour to-night it was officially announced that the Stewart case was closed. At 12:30 o'clock Inspector Dilkes said: I am expecting every moment a dispatch from Capt. Kealy, that he has taken formal possession of the body of A. T. Stewart. Capt. Kealy, with Chief Donovan, of Hoboken, took possession of the body in the Weehawken Cemetery to-night. It was known that the body was there, but the taking possession of it was delayed until evidence had been accumulated sufficient to convict all the persons concerned in the robbery. It is believed that they have all been arrested. Assistant District Attorney Russell was with Judge Hill, directing the proceedings in the arrest of the criminals. The evidence is complete. The means of identification are perfect, and the evidence for the conviction of all concerned is believed to be strong.

The Weehawken Cemetery is the graveyard, and in its stone yard Mahoney—who is believed to have received the body—was employed. It has been learned that Mahoney went, several days ago, to Superintendent Bayer, of the Weehawken Cemetery, and asked him in what part of Georgia Bayer's brother lived. He said that he intended to go South at once, and wanted to know some one in that part of the country. He acted strangely, and had plenty of money. Mr. Bayer went to Judge Hillton and detailed to him the conversation he had with Mahoney, and thus, it is believed, came the evidence needed to positively convict Mahoney with the crime. Mahoney undoubtedly went South, and it is believed that he, too, is under arrest. There will be no opportunity given the curious to verify the fact that the remains are those of A. T. Stewart. It is the purpose of Judge Hillton to have them laid away in some safe place of deposit, which will be known only to himself and persons employed to execute the interment this time. The watchman will know what he is hired to do, and probably not be discharged until after the remains shall have been immovably buried in the crypt designed for their reception.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Four men have been arrested on suspicion of stealing Stewart's body. The detectives decline to give their names at present, lest the publication might interfere with the full development of the case. Up to 1 o'clock this morning there were no new developments in the case. The police assert in the strongest possible terms that as yet they have obtained no clear looking towards the recovery of the body.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Reports in the morning papers that Stewart's body has been found are pronounced untrue at police headquarters.

The stories about a body being found in Hoboken or in Weehawken Cemetery are laughed at by the police officials as ridiculous. Superintendent Walling characterized them as scandalously false. No new arrests were made in any of the precincts up to midnight for complicity in the grave robbery. The prisoners, Whalen or Vreeland, and Burke, will be examined in court to-morrow. They are arrested as suspicious characters, capable of doing the deed. The police and detectives are all busily engaged in hunting up clues, but the clues and rumors of the body being recovered appears to be getting exhausted.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A correspondent, telegraphing from Washington, says President Hayes, when appealed to for an authorized announcement regarding his position towards the South, and his intentions with reference to the violations of law at the recent election, went to his table and taking up a pamphlet copy of his last message to Congress, turned to the fourth page, and said: "My position has not changed towards the South. It is the same now as when I wrote my letter of acceptance, my inaugural address and my message to Congress a year ago. In my message I said, and the President read as follows: 'It should be our fixed and unalterable determination to protect by all available and proper means under the Constitution and laws the lately emancipated race in the enjoyment of their privileges. Whatever authority rests with me to this end I shall not hesitate to put forth.' The President read the last sentence with emphasis.

SALT LAKE, U. T., Nov. 16.—The Mormon women held a meeting at the theater to-day, and passed resolutions avowing a belief in the patriarchal order of marriage, as revealed to God's people in the past ages, which, if lived up to, would be conducive to long life, strength and glory. They indorse it as one of the most important principles of their holy religion, and claim the right of its practice.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16.—Hon. John W. Merritt, formerly editor of the Springfield, Ill., Register, Salem Advocate, and other papers, and one of the oldest journalists in the West, died at Salem, Ill., this morning, aged 73.

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., Nov. 16.—Last night a terrible accident occurred at the Union Depot in this city, resulting in the death of Michael Dillon, of Lawndale township, near Lexington. In attempting to board a freight train, he fell beneath the wheels, and was cut into fragments, his remains being scattered along the track for a distance of 100 yards. The deceased was in poor circumstances, and leaves a wife and eight children. It is believed he was intoxicated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—The latest election returns from Washington Territory give Brenits, Republican, 1,500 majority.

TALLAHASSEE, FLA., Nov. 16.—The Supreme Court met to-day in response to a petition for a mandamus compelling the Canvassing Board of Alachua county to make a canvass of all the returns of the county, three precincts having been thrown out. Notices were served on members thereof on the 14th, but they did not appear or make answer to the Court. Judge Baker, of Jacksonville, appeared for the Board, but he had had no consultation with his clients and wanted none. The Court then adjourned from 11 to 3:30 to-day, when the matter was argued, and the Court granted an alternative writ of mandamus against the Canvassing Board of Alachua county, returnable Wednesday next. Mr. Biabee gave notice that on Monday he should ask for a writ of mandamus against the Inspectors at Precinct No. 4, in Madison county, to compel them to make a return of the election at that precinct. Biabee claims he has about 200 majority, without this latter precinct, if the votes are counted in Alachua county.
